Scope: The projects involve the replacement of the single-track NJ Transit crossing at Coddington Rd and Ridge Rd in Readington Township. The work will include full 24-hr closures of the track while the crossings are being updated to pre-cast concrete crossing panels. The approaches will be reconstructed to meet the new crossing.

Schedule: Coddington Rd and Ridge Rd will be closed for construction on Thursday July 6, 2023, at 9:00AM and reopened in the morning at 7:00AM on Thursday July 13, 2023, if weather permits. The weekday work will be completed between 7AM to 4PM and the weekend work will be completed between 7AM to 5PM. The paving day will be done between 7AM to 7PM on Tuesday July 11, 2023, and Wednesday July 12, 2023, if weather permits.

Detour: A temporary detour from Coddington Rd and Ridge Rd – Pulaski Rd – Main St – Rt 22 will be installed to direct traffic.

Note: The on-or-about signs will be installed at the crossing 2 weeks in advance to inform the drivers and pedestrians for the upcoming construction. The equipment will be parked across the road behind the breakaway barricades at the crossing, so no vehicles can cross the track. The advance warning signs will be installed, and pavement marking will be refreshed if needed, but it is up to the town to maintain it. If there are issues with the weather or any other issues that prevent the construction from happening, the construction will be postponed until further notice.

Please contact Duy-Anh Le, Resident Engineer at (908) 698-1126 or duyanh.le@dot.nj.gov if you have any questions concerning this matter.
